

The excursion fleet obeyed orders better than ever before and gave both boats plenty of sea room; in fact, the space about the boats extended more than a mile on either side.

The larger excursion boats also kept well astern, so that they did not at any time affect the wind.

By 2 o'clock the wind had subsided almost completely, leaving the sails of the boats flapping about in the long ocean roll. They twisted and turned in a desperate effort to get into a favorable slant of wind, during which headwinds were frequently shifted.

The Wind
Plays Tricks.
In shore, and further up the coast towards Sandy Hook, a fine northeast breeze prevailed, but it worked off shore very gradually. It was rather singular to see an old coaster come dashing out of New York harbor and hugging the shore, run down the coast at a lively gait until she passed both yachts. The sky, under the influence of the new breeze, began to clear, and the muggy dog-day, which prevailed earlier in the day, disappeared completely.

Despite the northwester, which at 2:15 o'clock was working slowly out in the direction of the yachts, a number of boats in the excursion fleet began to turn back towards New York, evidently believing that the yachts, which were then about two miles from the outer mark, would not be able to cover the remaining 17 miles before 4:30 o'clock, when the time-limit of the race would expire.

The large excursion boats, however, remained, and the clearing weather gave all on board an excellent opportunity of seeing every movement of the yachts.

Two miles ahead could be seen the big tugboat displaying a large ball, and not far off the tug came the tugboat, which was also displaying a large ball. The tugboat, which was also displaying a large ball, was also displaying a large ball.

FARMER BURNED TO DEATH.
Load of Wheat He Was on Took Fire.

CLINTON, Ind., Aug. 15.—James Cunard, a farmer living eight miles north of here, met a terrible death today. He was working in a wheat field, hauling wheat to a threshing machine engine. In some manner the load of wheat which he was hauling caught fire.

When Cunard first noticed the fire it had gained considerable headway. He fought against it and tried to smother it out, but on account of a stiff breeze which was blowing the fire soon gained such headway that his efforts were in vain.

His clothes took fire, and he leaped from the wagon and ran toward the barn. Before he reached him he was dead. The horses, running away upon the wagon and turned the burning wheat upon them. Tangled in the harness, they were powerless to free themselves and were burned to death. Cunard leaves a widow and three children.

HUNG FROM CRANE TO SIGNAL.
Farmer Adopted Dangerous Tactics to Stop Train.

WINSTED, Conn., Aug. 15.—As the New York express on the Central New England railway was approaching the flag station at West Norfolk, William Abraham, a farmer, was surprised to see a man hanging to the main crane in front of the little station. His first thought was that the man had committed suicide, and his second that the body was being used as a signal for the mail catcher caught it. Quick as a flash he shut off steam and applied the air brake.

When the train came to a stop in front of the station the engineer was surprised to see the supposed dead man release his grip on the crane, jump to the ground and board the train. The individual who came from a farm, but refused to divulge his name to inquisitive passengers, caused no end of laughter among the trainmen, who remarked that he hung to the main crane by his hands and feet. The next time he saw him stop the train. A brakeman warned the farmer against repeating the performance, as he said the next time the mail catcher might catch him and dash his brains out on the side of the cars.

His Well "Came In."
Richard M. Hyams, a St. Louis newspaper man, will go to Oklahoma tomorrow where he is interested in an oil lease. He received news yesterday that a 200-barrel well had been "brought in" on his property.

BEFORE THE RACE BEGAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—At sunrise there was considerable haze out at sea, but as the sun rose its rays began to penetrate the fog and at 8 o'clock its work of dissipating the mist was progressing most satisfactorily. As the morning wore on the westerly wind, after seemingly accomplishing its purpose of blowing the mist seaward, began to lighten and three hours before 12 o'clock for the start New York harbor was unobscured.

Sailing vessels, even little clam dredging boats, lay motionless upon the water and the smoke from the steamers, while rising high in the air, had but little movement. Inside the bend of Sandy Hook, where the two yachts were to start, the tide was running strong and fast. Disappointment over the weather outlook was apparent. By 7 o'clock preparations for the contest were under way aboard both boats, which had by that hour sent up their jibs in stops. While the crew of Reliance breakfasted, Miss Iselin boarded his charge and made a critical examination of her rigging.

Both yachts began to make sail as soon as colors were sounded, and at 8:30 o'clock both had their mainmasts hoisted and their headsails up in stops. In addition, the Reliance sent up her No. 1 cub topsail and the Norfolk William Abraham hoisted his above Shamrock III, lying just ahead of her. One of Mr. Iselin's guests talked this morning over the telephone with a friend in New York city, asking the odds on the Reliance. He reported that when those aboard the defender that one to three was the best that the adherents of Sir Thomas Lipton could give.

Reliance's sails fitted beautifully. In the mainmast there was hardly a wrinkle and the topsail set down in the angle as if it had been individually made to order. The flexible material. The mainsail used was the new one, used for the first time two days ago.

Shamrock seemed to have a little trouble getting her mainsail in shape, but when it finally was stretched there was not a wrinkle in it as big as a man's hand. Reliance's wind shifted more to the west and freshened a little and the clouds gave some indications of more breeze, but the sun's light came out from behind the Hook did not do more than creep along while flags at the mainmasts of the anchored boats clung about the stars.

At 8:55 Reliance took a line from her tender and in a few minutes was to the Hook and on her way to the starting point.

Immediately Shamrock III raised her club topsail and after getting it well in position took line from her tender preparatory to following Reliance. At 9:06 she started out of Sandy Hook Bay. The crew with Sir Thomas Lipton's guests on board, followed soon afterwards.

Indications of a race today were not confined to the outer harbor, for at an early hour thousands were on their way from all parts of the city and the suburbs to the piers along the East and North rivers, where they boarded the hundreds of motor excursion steamers and were carried down the bay.

By reason of her early start Reliance was able to reach the lights ahead of the excursion fleet. The Shamrock, however, starting half an hour afterwards, was surrounded by the vanguard of these vessels and a score of steam yachts and tugs accompanied her nearly all the way.

In this fleet were three or four revenue cutters, and as soon as these boats reached the lights they at once took up positions, forming a cordon about a mile around the floating lighthouse.

At 10:15, three-quarters of an hour before the time set for the start, there were fully 20 vessels in the vicinity of the lights and twice as many more strung out on the broad ocean road between the lighthouse and the narrow.

REUNION IN TENNESSEE.
Wearers of Blue. Residents of New South. Will Celebrate.

BROWNSVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 20.—The Federal veterans of West Tennessee are preparing to hold an elaborate reunion at Selma, Tenn., on September 3 and 4. Several thousand people are expected to attend. Hon. Grant M. Moberg of Memphis will be chief orator. Other speakers will be Hons. L. W. Dutro of Memphis, Judge John R. Walker of Trenton, Hon. W. R. Foster, Hon. John E. McCall and other prominent politicians and officials of Tennessee. There are few Federal soldiers' reunions held in Tennessee.

During the Civil War there were a good many Union men in the east portion of this state, but few in West Tennessee. With new industrial South many ex-Union men have located in this section and union is expected to bring together men who were the blue in the States.

Mexico Will Hold Carnival.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MEXICO, Mo., Aug. 20.—Despite the protests of the citizens of the religious people of this city, it has been decided that the Mexico Carnival will be held beginning October 22 and continuing to the 17th. The Buckle-Darnaby Carnival Co., and other attractions have been secured and live stock and farm products are to receive special attention. The religious element's objection was that a carnival brings drunkards and gamblers to the city. The managers promise to have a clean and up-to-date carnival.

THE RUG SALE OFFERS MANY EXCELLENT VALUES.

Scruggs Vandervoort & Barney

August Sale Blankets, Spreads, Comforts.

THESE SALES HAVE BEEN REORGANIZED, reinforced with belated shipments, which are full three weeks late. The best values for the sale are in these lots and at the prices quoted are fully a quarter and in many instances a third less than what they would be should we ask our normal, legitimate profit. Considering that the raw materials have greatly enhanced in value since these goods were made, the opportunity to buy liberally which this sale offers should be profited by—not a housekeeper in this city and vicinity but would be benefited by buying now.

All Wash Waists At A Bargain

The best part of it is that most of the waists we are selling at these very low prices are of the sort which will be worn a great part of the fall—Waists of linen and of madras, not light weight, but in the medium weights; they make extremely serviceable waists in traveling, as they stand hard usage in laundering. All wash waists are reduced, none are reserved.

Best values are $3.45 up to $6.00 each reduced from $5.50 to $11.
$1.25 for $1.75 Waists.

REDS FILL UP ON FIREWATER. Attachment Against Younger and James Leads to Trouble.

The grit and resourcefulness of Cole Younger and Frank James, who are now running a wild west show with real Indians and much bombardment by blank cartridges, were taxed to their utmost at the end of the engagement at East St. Louis. They proved equal to the occasion and today they are showing at Warren-town, Mo.

Laborers and tent rustlers, as told in Wednesday's late editions of the Post-Dispatch, claimed that the show owed them $20, and they ran an attachment on all the property at East St. Louis. The managers declared the claim was exorbitant, but they had to pay it or abandon the evening entertainment. They paid it, but caused a delay in the course of which the real men explored the regions of "whisky chute" and acquired much firewater. Police, old scouts and young cowboys rescued the Indians from the certain fate that would have visited them had they gone a few drinks further and got well on the warpath. The happy family was finally gathered together and the bridge was crossed.

Cole Younger was in St. Louis Wednesday night for the first time since 1867, and visited his cousin, Mrs. Carrie L. Hayes of 3131 Lawton avenue.

RAILWAY EMPLOYEES' OUTING. Picnic Will Be Held at Delmar Garden Aug. 22.

In order to increase their benefit fund the members of the Street Railway Employees' Union will have an outing at Delmar Garden Saturday, August 22. For the day the 300 employees of the transit company, their families and friends will own Delmar Garden and all the receipts, except the actual running expenses of the garden will go to swell the benefit fund.

The Street Railway Employees' Union, which comprises the great majority of the men in the service of the Transit company, is a comparatively young organization, and the demands upon its resources are great. The benefit fund is not large and so this manner of increasing the fund is adopted.

The picnic with the show—"Helter-Skelter"—given by the Delmar company, will be turned over to the union, as with many other of the attractions. In addition a fine program of athletic sports has been arranged and there is every indication that all who visit Delmar Saturday will have a big time.

Tales of a Traveler.
"Did you have a pleasant voyage?" "Definitely. The sea was smooth as glass all the way across."

"See that shark?" "Not till he got to the New York custom house."

MONSTER GUNS FOR THE FAIR. Section of Coast Defenses Will Be Produced.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Monster guns, appearing coast defense guns, as part of the government exhibit at the World's Fair, will be brought to St. Louis by a circuitous route from the Atlantic on specially prepared cars, to avoid bridges or culverts not able to bear the strain of their immense weight.

They will be mounted on the hill in front of the government building on the Exposition site and manned by gun crews from heavy artillery, who will give daily drills.

Maj. James Rockwell, Jr., Charles H. Clarke and Capt. J. Walker Bennett of the United States Army ordnance corps have been appointed disbursing agents of the fund for the war department exhibit and will oversee the placing of the guns.

A section of the coast fortifications on an exact scale will be reproduced.

There have been unearthed at Abydos by Flinders Petrie 10 successive temples ranging in size from 500 to 1000 years, which show the whole history of Egypt. A globe vase of green glass with Menes' name inscribed in purple shows that polychronism is 1000 years older than has been surmised. Egyptian carvings in ivory are found which rival in excellence the finest Greek or Italian productions.

THE SALESWOMAN CAR JUMPS TRACK; 2 SEVERELY HURT

Compelled to Be on Her Feet the Larger Part of the Day Finds a Tonic in Pe-ru-na.

Miss Nellie Curtin, of St. Paul, Gives Her Experience.

Miss Nellie Curtin.

MISS NELLIE CURTIN, 608 Pearl street, St. Paul, Minn., head saleswoman in a department store, writes: "I have charge of a department in a dry goods store, and after standing the larger part of the day, I would go home with a dull ache, generally through my entire body. I used Peruna and feel so much better that I walk to and from the store now. I knew Peruna to be the best medicine on the market for the diseases peculiar to women."—Miss Nellie Curtin.

Nothing is so weakening to the human system as the constant loss of mucus. Catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membrane produces an excessive formation of mucus. Whether the mucous membrane be located in the head or pelvic organs, the discharge of mucus is sure to occur. This discharge of mucus constitutes a weakening drain; the system cannot long withstand the loss of mucus, hence it is that women afflicted with catarrhal affections of the pelvic organs feel tired and languid, with a weak back and throbbing brain. A course of Peruna is sure to restore health by cutting off the weakening drain of the daily loss of mucus.

An Admirable Tonic.
Congressman Mark H. Dunnell, National Hotel, Washington, D. C., writes: "Your Peruna being used by myself and many of my friends and acquaintances not only as a cure for catarrh but also as an admirable tonic for physical recuperation, I gladly recommend it to all persons requiring such remedies."—Mark H. Dunnell.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Southbound Trolley on Bellefontaine Avenue Line Crashes Into a Northbound Car.

Two persons were severely injured and several others sustained slight cuts and bruises in an accident on the Bellefontaine line at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. The accident occurred at the intersection of Virginia avenue and Delore street. A south-bound car jumped the track at this point and crashed into a north-bound car with such force that Alexander Witner, a passenger on the front platform of the north-bound car was thrown over the dashboard into the street.

Inside the car the passengers were thrown about and Miss Lulu Murphy, a milliner living at 7125 Alabama avenue, was tossed from her seat to the opposite side of the car. She was badly bruised about the hips and body and her face and hands were cut by the flying glass. She was removed to her home, where she is in a state of collapse from the shock.

Witner's injuries are serious. He is bruised about the head and neck. It is thought that he has sustained internal injuries. He is a salesman and was removed to his home.

Both cars were damaged, the north-bound one to the extent of $50.

PROBE OF FREIGHT TIE-UP BEGINS

Executive Committee of the Business Men's League Formulates Plan of Action.

The executive committee of the Business Men's League met at noon Thursday in the Mercantile Club to outline its work.

It is estimated with the investigation of railroad terminal conditions in St. Louis and East St. Louis with a view to securing relief from freight congestion and a through bill of lading for St. Louis freight.

The chairman of the committee is Elias M. Cline. The other members are John E. Fisher, D. H. Cullum, James J. Knapp, Hugh McKittick, J. J. Wertheimer, R. W. Shapleigh and George W. Brown.

"We have been given time to make a thorough investigation," said Mr. Cline, "and we shall go into all the features of the situation and get all the facts. We are going to take whatever time is necessary and use whatever means are necessary."

The executive committee's report on the facts of the freight congestion will be laid before the committee of 17, which will then consider the question of solution. The aim, according to the petition of shippers, which was brought about the formation of the committee, is to decide upon a plan which will secure relief before the World's Fair opens from conditions which have been growing worse every year.

SCALPED BY AN ELEVATOR

Young Man Looks Down Shaft and Is Struck by Descending Car.

Morris Bleitz, a clerk, 22 years old, living at 1415 Market street, was taken to the City Hospital Thursday, from the Schwab Clothing Co.'s factory, Twenty-first and Washington avenues, with his scalp almost torn from his head.

While waiting on the fifth floor of the building for the elevator, Bleitz looked down the shaft to see if the lift was coming up. Just at that moment it came down from the sixth floor and his head was caught between the gate and the floor of the car.

Save for 4 inches at the forehead, Bleitz's scalp was torn from his skull and his mouth was lacerated by being pressed against the gate. His wounds are not considered dangerous.

LOSES 4 CHILDREN, OTHERS ILL

Mrs. Minnie Bleiber's Case at the City Hospital a Pitiable One—Bravely Assists Nurse.

Having lost one child within a week and with five others in a critical condition from scarlet fever, Mrs. Minnie Bleiber of 746 South Second street was admitted to the City Hospital Wednesday.

Seven after entering the institution one of the children, William, 7 years old, died. The other four, whose ages range from 3 to 8 years, are not expected to live.

Mrs. Bleiber grieves constantly over the death of her only son, but she has not been able to get steady work since she fears that they will be unable to bury their little one beside the other children who died in infancy.

Bravely able to stand through watching over the children who died, the mother bravely tries to assist the nurse and take care of those that are left. She is 30 years old and has had eight children, four of whom are dead.

IRISH COMMEND LAND BILL

Wolfe Tone Branch of United Irish League Praises Redmond and Prepares to Welcome Blake.

A largely attended meeting of the Wolfe Tone branch of the United Irish League was held at Trimp's Hall, 1412 North Grand avenue, last night.

The chair was occupied by John P. Leahy. Several speeches were made, commending the passage of the Irish land bill by the House of Lords.

Arrangements were also completed to give Dr. J. J. Kane a fitting reception when he arrives here from Europe next month.

The following resolution was unanimously carried: That we extend our congratulations to J. E. Redmond, M. P., the brilliant leader of the Irish Parliamentary party and his able colleagues in securing, by their labors, the final passage of the land bill, which will restore to the Irish people the land of which they and their forefathers have been so unjustly deprived.

Committees were appointed to make arrangements for a monster reception to Col. J. E. Blake, late commander of the Irish brigade in the Transvaal, who will address a meeting in St. Louis in November next under the auspices of the local branches of the United Irish League.

HOMELESS TWINS HAVE FRIEND

Money and Clothing Come Mysteriously to Iron Mountain Tots.

Money and clothing were received at the City Hospital yesterday for the "Iron Mountain Twins," Austin and Green Murray. In all, $25 has been sent to the mother by charitable persons and the children now have clothing of their own. Both the babies are healthy and have grown rapidly.

Sherman, the nurse who has charge of the twins, watches them every minute. When the nurse takes one of them for a bath, Sherman goes with her and sees that the infant is returned in good order to the mother. When asked if he would not like to give one of them away, the little fellow shakes his head in indignant denial and says, "We need them both; we've only got two." He sleeps on a quilt by the side of the bed and the first cry of the babies wakes him.

ST. LOUIS REVENUE INCREASES

It Is Nearly Million and a Half More Than Last Year.

This year's taxes, the collection of which will begin Sept. 1, or soon after, will show a heavy increase in the value of St. Louis properties, real estate and personal. President O'Brien of the Board of Assessors has submitted 7,841 bills to the controller for collection of the taxes on the city's thirty-two special clerks are at work on the verification of these bills, and they will be turned over to collector Hammer within a few days.

The revenue of the aggregate assessments of $48,654,873 will be about $9,338,279, as compared with last year's revenue of $39,316,594.

Municipal revenue will acquire $6,527,726; this year, an increase of $1,000,000, and the schools will acquire $2,217,549, this year, an increase of $466,112.

LITTLE SCOUT SHOULD WIN A RACE TODAY

On His Good Showing on Last Out He Will Probably Be Made Favorite in the Kinloch Feature, and With Good Ride He Should Capture It.

BY R. D. WALSH.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KINLOCH RACETRACK, Aug. 30.—Large fields are the feature of today's program at Kinloch. This will make the task of selecting the winners harder.

The fourth and fifth, however, will furnish good contests, and will make up for the deficiencies in the other events.

The feature event of the day will be the fourth, a handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth, for 3-year-olds and upwards. This will be a good race. Every horse of the six carded will get liberal support. It is probable that Little Scout will be favorite because of his recent good showing.

In the race won by Mae Day last Monday, at a mile, he finished a close second, and if the distance had been a little further it is certain that he would have won. The distance today is a sixteenth farther, and that will suit him much better. He puts on four pounds more, however, but that will make no appreciable difference in his racing.

Toby Tosa is the one that Little Scout will have to look out for. Scout beat him only a head in their last encounter, and Toby will have an advantage of six pounds over that race in today's contest. Handicapper Martin figures Oris and Josie F. equal, and it certainly is a difficult proposition to choose between these two.

Leena is favored with very light weight here, but I think she is completely outclassed by this company.

Light Opera seems to have little hopes of victory judging by his last race. All things considered Little Scout should win this race provided he gets a competent ride.

Two-Year-Olds Will Go Seven Furlongs.

For the first time this season on the local tracks 2-year-olds will be asked to go seven furlongs. Five of them are engaged in the fifth race. Branca has been doing so well in her races here that she looks to be much the best here. She has given evidences of liking a route.

Hugh McGowan is a good little colt, and there is a good chance that he may tower the victorious Branca in today's race. Branca has been running on the eastern tracks, but his record does not warrant the supposition that he can win against this company. On Turando's St. Louis record he has not the chance to win here.

The same remark applies to Leena. The other four races are "will you walk into my garden, and take the spider to the fly" kind. They are made for the bookmakers, and there is little chance for speculators in such events.

It is quite possible that long shots may win in each card event there will be many of them that it will be difficult to select the right one. Tickful has the most early speed of the lot engaged in the sixth race, and if his rider does not try to make a runaway race of it he has a good chance to win. Tickful and Rollick seem to be the contenders, but Exapo might wake up with a startling surprise.

The first race has a collection of the worst "canines" that it could be possible to get together in all the country. They have neither form nor class, and it is a big stretch of the imagination to call them thoroughbreds.

I will admit my absolute inability to make even a guess as to which of these dogs of this race, I can recommend nothing, but will simply state that Wineland has as good a chance as anything else in the race. Husaka and Signora Pearson might slide into second and third places.

Second Race Little Better Than First.

The second is little better than the first in point of class. If a competent rider is put on Worthington the gray horse might win. McIntyre gave him a fearful ride a few days ago. Sing and Eliza Cook will run well and should get a part of the purse.

It is a mystery where all these grand horses in the third race came from. Scotch Snuff, Wilhelm, W. C. John and Moyle are names to conjure with. Baker has Second Mate—a son of First Mate—entered here, and when the horses are in a horseman and trainer I will select his representative to win here.

There are only two races on today's card that should be played, the fourth and fifth. It is simply impossible to beat the others on any system that has never been invented, still the tipsters will come out tomorrow shouting "four winners yesterday," etc., etc.

The action of Judge Murphy in firing the trainer of Eliza Cook for that horse's condition yesterday was eminently just and proper. Eliza is a public favorite and is always strongly supported, and it was an outrage to send him to the post in a manifestly unfit condition. It is astonishing that a racing firm of the high standing of Lemp & Co. should permit this to be done.

It is some consolation for racers to know that such things cannot be done with impunity while Judge Murphy is in the stand.

Leave for Their Honeymoon.

Andrew Meyer, Jr., of 3218 South Jefferson avenue, superintendent of city parks, and his wife of one day, who was Miss Lulu Zwickler of 324 Oregon avenue, will leave Thursday night for Chicago on a ten days' honeymoon trip.

CLASSIFIED AS PROFESSIONALS

A. L. Fitzporter and Bernard McKewen, formerly of St. Louis U. Are Bared.

The intention of the U. S. of the Western A. U. to prosecute strict amateurism if its branches is shown in the announcement of the disqualification of Bernard McKewen and A. L. Fitzporter, formerly St. Louis University students. McKewen was a star of the football team and Fitzporter played with the baseball nine.

According to the news sent out by F. X. Greene of the Western A. U., both athletes have been named professionals because of their failure to reply to charges made against them.

Charlevoix—Potoskey.

The only through sleeping car running from St. Louis to Northern Michigan summer resorts, via Chicago, is operated by the Illinois Central.

Capt. Dick Goll Buried.

The funeral of Capt. Dick Goll, lately of Chicago, formerly in the river service out of St. Louis, was held at the Wagner funeral parlors Thursday morning. Capt. Goll was a passenger on the boat which was traded dropped off he went to the railroads.

"Boro-Formalin" (Elmer & Amend) used antiseptic, cleansing mouth and throat, is unsurpassed.

DAN PATCH NOW CHAMPION PACER

Son of Joe Patchen Lowers Record of His Sire's Rival, Star Pointer— Goes the Mile in 1:59.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—After nearly a year of trying, Dan Patch, son of the great Joe Patchen, broke the world's record for pacing, 1:59, made by the lifetime rival of his sire, Star Pointer.

At Brighton Beach yesterday Patch went the distance in 1:59, clipping a necessary fraction to win a new record.

Once before Dan Patch had tied the mark, but straining for months as he did, he failed repeatedly, and it seemed as if Pointer's figure was good for the ages.

The value of the record was enhanced by a slightly slow course with a stiff front breeze at the start. The match was a special race at a mile to beat the track record of 2:00, with $200 added if the record was broken.

Steadily as a rock, with an easy certain stride, the wonderful performer sped around the quarter, going in 39.4, the half in 1:20, the three-quarters in 1:59, and the mile in 1:59.

Even money was laid that the champion Star Pointer would not go under his own record and Dan Patch's.

Four other events were run off as follows: 2:07 pacing class, purse $1000, two in three: Loanda, b. h. by Alton—Kathryn, by Alton (broodmare), 2:07.1; (broodmare), 2:07.2; (broodmare), 2:07.3; (broodmare), 2:07.4; (broodmare), 2:07.5; (broodmare), 2:07.6; (broodmare), 2:07.7; (broodmare), 2:07.8; (broodmare), 2:07.9; (broodmare), 2:08.0.

Special against time, to be won by Dan Patch, b. h. by Joe Patchen—Zella, by Willa—(broodmare), 2:10.1; (broodmare), 2:10.2; (broodmare), 2:10.3; (broodmare), 2:10.4; (broodmare), 2:10.5; (broodmare), 2:10.6; (broodmare), 2:10.7; (broodmare), 2:10.8; (broodmare), 2:10.9; (broodmare), 2:11.0.

GOODMAN-FELTZ BOUZZ FIZZLES

Nothing Is Heard From Hard-Luck Charlie and Tonight's Fight Is All Off.

The West End Club, after many recent attempts to pursue its investigations in the realm of physical culture, chronicles one more failure tonight, when the match between Kid Goodman and Boston and Tommy Feltz, now of St. Louis, was expected to take place.

The club's president is probably up against "hard luck" again, for not a word has been heard from him since his departure from Denver, where he tied up long enough to make a match.

Hughson's matches have all had the bad habit of going out lately. Feltz, who followed Regan's battle with Feltz at Kansas City next Monday.

The Sullivan-Regan affair is supposed to take place at Memphis, where the large system of fraternal ambulation is in vogue.

It was reported that the game had been closed down at Memphis, but "Doc" Hot-tum, who made the present match, says not.

Feltz is the only man of the contingent seeking battles here who seems willing to fight without writing out some pound of flesh in the long and howling over the weight. Feltz concedes weight to the whole crowd and goes as far as the weight division for his matches, though he does not turn 120 pounds when in flesh.

Tommy Sullivan of Brooklyn has come back to his first manager, Frank Hart, after having dallied with the wiles of Houghtonville, the extent of his match with Young Corbett. It is evident that Houghton is not heaven in the matter of match-making.

St. Louis Gets the Florists.
At its meeting in Milwaukee, the Society of American Florists decided to hold its annual convention in St. Louis in 1904. A number of florists of St. Louis have been placed in nomination for vice-president.

Gloomy thoughts become habitual to the dyspeptic. He has on the dark side of things and every mole hill becomes a mountain. His condition affects his business judgment and mars his home relations.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It gives buoyancy of mind as well as health of body because it removes the physical cause of mental depression.

It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, and the body is strengthened by nutrition which is the only source of physical strength.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion for several months. My family physician to no avail," writes Mr. Thomas O. Lever, of Lever, Richmond Co., N. C. "At night would have cold hot feet and hands alternately. I was getting very nervous and suffered a great deal mentally. After some death would claim me. Always expected something unusual to take place, was irritable and impatient, and greatly annoyed. I could scarcely eat anything that would not produce a bad feeling in the stomach. After some hesitation, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pell's' for taking several bottles from the store, I was improving. I continued for six months or more, and all at once I began to feel like a new man. I eat in order that I may feel good and strong. I fully believe if any one suffering with indigestion or torpid liver or chronic cold would take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pell's' Pills, they would soon be greatly benefited, and with a little perseverance would be entirely cured."

Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

INVADERS PLAY TWICE TODAY

Sudhoff and Powell Will Do the Slab Work for McAleer's Uncertainties.

The invaders came down on the Browns' fold in rather tame style Wednesday. A delayed train was responsible for the anti-climax in their appearance and forced the announcement from the St. Louis management that a postponed game.

The deferred "trouble" will be brought off this afternoon, when a double header will be contested. Sudhoff and Powell will work for McAleer's uncertainties.

This will probably draw out two of Mr. Griffith's best pitching cards. Wolfe will work in one game for the visitors.

The several hundred fans who were invited into the grounds to watch the local club practice, after the announcement of the postponement, here were pleased to watch the new pitcher, Barney Petty, recently secured from Cedar Rapids. Petty arrived Wednesday and was pitched out for a few weeks.

He is another big man, and though not as ponderous as Powell nor as attenuated as Wright, he is sufficiently Cypselonian to make Willie Sudhoff look a pin cushion beside a bolster.

Petty Has the Goods.
Petty has nice speed and good curves, according to the general opinion of the players. He saw his performance, Burkett, Heidrick, Wallace and the old guard worked till the sun went down behind the Robison stables just back of American League Park. When they finished the grass was shorter, where some half hundred "grass eaters" sought a chance to show their fielding form.

One led who danced around second acceptably won the favor of the crowd. He proved to be Gruner of the High School team. Secretary Hodges was not over 200 feet from the grand stand when drawing inferences audibly.

Charles Hemphill was being sought by the management last night. Hemphill has been ill recently, and his friends say his weak hitting is attributable to this. Martin has been doing very little in the batting line and it is difficult to see what edge either he or Hemphill has over J. Emmett.

The latter looks sure to round to form with a little more trying. There is no denying he can stand the "rounding" as ever.

No game will be played at Philadelphia today, or during the Cardinal series scheduled. The condition of the park as a result of the accident some days ago was such that it could not be gotten into shape for this series.

The next contest for the Robison players is at Boston where the club opens Saturday.

Frank Pears will have to pass up hopes of an umpire's job with the American League unless a new vacancy occurs. Pears and his friends were sanguine that he would succeed Umpire Hassett, whose resignation on decisions was not over 100 for the season, and who, therefore, had been let out.

President Johnson of the American League yesterday announced that he had appointed J. Egan of Providence, R. I., to fill Hassett's shoes.

Pears is still hoping the National League stuff may find a place for him.

With new players coming in every day some provision for identification must not be out of line for the management to follow. For example, the home system might be followed, and provide that Petty wear a certain or dainty baby blue ribbon on his hat when he goes to the plate. Other colors might serve the purpose, too. Yarn should be avoided. It is old-fashioned and has been looked too often on forgetful heads of families.

Manager McGraw of the Giants has a new pitcher named Harry McCormick, who was secured from the Jersey City club. The Giants recently purchased. Telegraphic reports state that McCormick will be "played out in the infield." This is probably done in the same way that the elevator boy accommodates the man who tells him, as the gate shoots skyward, to "hurry up down."

TAKES CHARGE OF DR. WEST ESTATE

Public Administrator Will Endeavor to Unravel the Present Tangle.

Public Administrator Garrard Strode has filed notice that he will take charge of the estate of Dr. Washington West of Forest Park boulevard and King's highway, who died of apoplexy Aug. 9.

His will was filed Aug. 10. It was dated April 3, 1929, and had as witnesses Charles Van Studdiford and David Smith. The signature of Dr. West had been drawn through several times with a lead pencil and beside the signature was written the date Sept. 28, 1929, in lead pencil. On the back of the will in handwriting was written "I do not want E. D. West to be connected with the administration of my property."

The estate amounts to $250,000. The will gives a portion of it to the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church and the remainder to the niece and nephew of Dr. West in Birmingham, Ala.

CAN YOU HELP THIS BOY FIND HIS HOME? WAS WITH PARENTS WEDNESDAY, BUT STRAYED

Brown-Haired Ollie Dell, Aged 8,
Held at Detention Room in Four Courts, Doesn't Know
Where He Lives.

Ollie Dell, aged 8, is in the detention room at the Four Courts because he does not remember where his home is. His story is that he left home at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to go to a grocery and lost his way. He told the police that his home was at 1825 North Sixteenth street, but there is no such number and no family named Dell in that neighborhood. The police think that he is a run-away. He seems to be such a bright little fellow that they cannot understand how he could forget his home.

His brown hair is clipped close to his head. His clothing is neat. His waist is blue and his trousers dark. His shoes and stockings are black.

RACE WAR IN TEXAS FEARED.

Negroes Flee From White Right After a Lynching Bee.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 20.—News from White Right, Tex., is to the effect that all the negroes have been ordered to leave, and more than 100 persons have fled for fear of a race war. A negro attacked a white woman about a week ago, and that night a negro accused of the offense was hanged by a mob, but rescued and saved from death by the sheriff and a posse. Notices were posted ordering all negroes to leave the place and the blacks fled.

A Texas & Pacific negro excursion to El Paso, arranged recently, has been declared off on protests from the mayor and chief of police at El Paso, who feared race trouble.

PORTO RICO PLANS TO ISOLATE LEPROS

Many Still at Large Because There Is No Way of Transporting Them.

OFFICERS CONFER AT SAN JUAN

Lazaretto Has Been Established on an Island, Where the Afflicted Are Fairly Happy.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.
SAN JUAN, P. R., Aug. 13.—The health officers of the several towns of Porto Rico have been summoned to meet at San Juan this week to confer with Superior of the Board of Health and Director of steps to segregate the lepers that remain at large in Porto Rico and are estimated at between forty and sixty in number.

The delay in carrying out this work has been due to the impossibility of securing transportation of the lepers to San Juan. The railroad and steamship companies refuse to transport such persons.

Acting Governor Hagitzell will be asked to order the mayors of all cities to gather all the lepers in their respective towns, so that they may be transferred to this city. The Director of Charities has a sufficient sum now at his disposal to maintain and support at least 60 lepers. Including the 22 cases already isolated.

That the isolation of the lepers will tend to exterminate within a few years leprosy in Porto Rico, is the opinion of Director of Charities Osterhout.

The leper colony of Porto Rico is now on Grabas (or Goat) Island, opposite Morro Castle, at the entrance to San Juan harbor. The unfortunate are perfectly willing to remain. Cabras is one of the islands retained by the federal government to be fortified later. It is probably a considerable time before the lepers are transferred elsewhere.

In 1888 lepers were allowed to mingle freely with the people, handle food in stores and market places and do other dangerous things. One of the first acts of the American administration was to segregate the victims and remove the few who were confined in the same building with lunatics and charity children. Capt. Davidson, on behalf of the military sanitary board, established the first lazaretto behind the hill in Porto Rico, a suburb of San Juan. He experienced many difficulties in locating and gathering in suspects, but bravely performed his mission.

The lepers were removed to Isla de Cabras, the temporary curative building was burned. The leper colony is now well situated and is maintained at a cost of $1 cent per day per inmate. The inmates reconcile themselves to the inevitable and while away their time with such games as checkers, dominoes, cards, etc. They are freely supplied with books and magazines, and many of them read, all enjoy looking at the pictures.

The buildings are substantial structures of masonry, erected originally for quarantine purposes. The male and female departments are separated by a two hundred yards and there are separate buildings for the practicing in charge and for the employees. The women who are made to make clothes for the men and assist in taking care of the sick. Recent extensive repairs have equipped the colony thoroughly for increased work.

THE ABOVE STATEMENT means much to the careful and economical buyer—it simply means a clean saving of 1/3 to 1/2 on worthy merchandise—some of the articles in this bargain list you're bound to need—you'll find them here, marked at prices hard to match—every nook and cranny of this big store, every section must be cleared of summer goods—each department has contributed its quota of bargains to this "END-OF-THE-SEASON WIND-UP." That no goods will be carried over from season to season has always been the slogan at Famous—this season's no exception. Tomorrow's dawn will reveal some amazing price reductions—an ABSOLUTE CLEARANCE is this store's mission at present. Read how we'll do it.

HOTEL ROBBERS ROUTED IN PISTOL FIGHT; ONE FATALLY SHOT; CONSTABLE IS KILLED

John McAuliffe, Officer of the Law, and Notorious Criminal, Shot Through Head While Racing on Broadway Shortly After Attempted Hotel Robbery.

Many circumstances strengthen the police belief that Joseph Wright, who was fatally shot in the attempted robbery of the St. Charles Hotel, and John McAuliffe, a deputy constable with a long criminal record, who was killed on Broadway near Biddle street 40 minutes afterward, were together both before and just after the hotel robbery.

Wright first said he last saw McAuliffe Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. Later he said he saw him at 12 o'clock; still later he said he had not seen him after 8:30 o'clock.

Clerk Dawson, who shot Wright, partially identified the body of McAuliffe at the morgue as that of the man who watched at the door while Wright tried to force him to open the hotel safe.

Wright was captured in Robbins lane, which is between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, going north.

McAuliffe was seen at Fifteenth street on Washington avenue, going rapidly east in his rented buggy, at 12:25, by Patrolman Wilkerson, who called on him to halt. McAuliffe flashed his star and continued eastward.

McAuliffe entered Broadway from Washington avenue or St. Charles street at about 12:30 o'clock, driving very rapidly. One chamber of McAuliffe's weapon is empty. A piece has been broken out of the handle of the revolver and there is a story that this piece has been found, but the police deny this fact.

Policeman Michael Cremins, who pursued the hotel robbers and who was shot in the leg by one of them, says Wright was one of the men and McAuliffe was the other.

YOUNG CLERK ROUTS TWO HOTEL ROBBERS

Seventeen-year-old Clyde Osborn Dawson put to flight two highwaymen who attempted to rob the St. Charles Hotel, of which he is night clerk, at 12:35 o'clock Thursday morning, wounding one of them. In the pistol battle which took place in the hotel lobby young Dawson received two flesh wounds in his left arm.

Joseph Wright, who the hospital physicians say is mortally wounded, is said by the police to have been one of the robbers. The identity of the other is uncertain.

Three policemen, attracted by the firing in the hotel, joined in the chase after the robbers when Dawson had driven them to the street. Michael Cremins, one of the officers, was shot in the left leg.

"I drew a chair up by the front window on St. Charles street, and sat down where I could get a good breeze. As I walked across the lobby I noticed there were two men sitting in the entrance on the steps. I don't know how long they had been there, but I think about twenty minutes.

"I had been sitting down but a minute when they got up and I heard them coming into the office. That was about 12:15.

"I started back toward the desk, thinking they wanted to register. One was a young man with a smooth face. The other was older and wore a red beard. He walked behind and I passed him and was about to pass the young man when he suddenly drew a pistol and told me to wait a minute and walk along ahead of him.

BOY WHO FACES DEATH IN DEFENDING HOTEL PROPERTY; ALLEGED ROBBER FATALLY SHOT, AND WOUNDED POLICEMAN

"I did as he said and we went through the little gate behind the desk. He kept the gun pointed right at me and ordered the older man to stay back by the door.

"Open that cash drawer," he said, and I opened it. He saw there was only a little change in it and then said, 'Open that safe.' The safe was standing right under the desk.

"I told him I didn't know the combination. He told me again to open the safe and I said again that I didn't know the combination.

"He stood right behind me and I was pretty badly scared, but I didn't propose to open the safe. I did know the combination. While he was telling me again to work the combination, I slipped my right hand inside my coat. I had my arm bent already, so that it didn't make much movement, and I got the pistol I had in my inside pocket.

"He was so close I couldn't move much, but I turned the pistol right under my right arm and fired back twice.

Two policemen who had passed the hotel 10 minutes before the attempted robbery also arrived on a run and joined in the chase. Officers Andrew Gordon, Michael Cremins and Murphy were first in pursuit.

Cremins and Murphy were exchanged between them and the fleeing men.

Wright, 31 years old, who was regularly released from the reform school one of the two men whom the officers saw running from the hotel and believed to be the robber most active in the attempt, was shot twice and captured. He was taken to the City Hospital in the same ambulance with Officer Cremins, who was shot in the leg by the other robber.

Wright says he was shot at Robbins lane and Washington, which is two blocks from the St. Charles Hotel. One bullet entered his left lung and the other lodged in his left shoulder.

He denies being involved in the robbery. "I was standing on the street when they shot me," he told the Post-Dispatch, "and I don't know anything about the robbery."

Policeman Cremins, who was shot in the leg by the partner of the hotel robber, says McAuliffe was the man who did the shooting.

"I am positive of it if McAuliffe had on a gray coat," said Cremins at his home Thursday noon.

McAuliffe wore a gray coat with a light black stripe when he was killed.

Both the partner of the attempted robbery wore a beard, which they think was false. McAuliffe was the man who shot him stopped deliberately at the corner of Robbins lane and Lucas avenue and fired back at him. He says he had ample opportunity of seeing him.

A negro policeman, Wilkerson, says he saw McAuliffe alone in a buggy at Fifteenth and Washington avenues, three blocks from where Cremins was shot, about 12:25, or just a few minutes after he had heard the shooting. McAuliffe flashed his deputy constable's star when ordered to stop, and was allowed to proceed.

When McAuliffe's body was searched it was found that his revolver had one empty chamber. Cremins says the man who shot him fired only once.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS THE KILLING OF "GUINEA MACK"

Sentenced from Court of Criminal Correction to serve 90 days in the workhouse, having pleaded guilty to a charge of petit larceny, June, 1901.

Discharged after being tried for burglary, March, 1900.

Exonerated by coroner's jury at inquest into death of Edward, alias Foxy, Regan. Regan was killed by McAuliffe in a saloon at Third and Biddle streets. It was claimed by McAuliffe that Regan was attempting to hold up Dennis Cummings, who was afterward shot and killed by his wife. The killing of Regan occurred in January, 1901.

In March, 1902, McAuliffe was caught in the act of robbing a man, but as the prosecuting witness was compelled to leave the city, McAuliffe was only sent to the police court.

In November, 1902, McAuliffe was caught in the act of beating and kicking Peter Larkin at Eighth and Pine streets. It was believed that Larkin had been robbed, but McAuliffe was never prosecuted.

Twenty minutes after the attempted robbery of the St. Charles Hotel Thursday morning, and as the climax to 15 minutes of reckless driving, shooting and shouting on Broadway between Washington avenue and O'Fallon street, John McAuliffe, a deputy constable, was shot in the back of the head and killed at Broadway and Biddle street.

The police of the Fourth District say they believe he was shot by one of two men in a buggy that had been racing with McAuliffe, who was in another rig. Sergeant Lally says that when he first saw McAuliffe and the other men, who began the race up and down Broadway, they had come from the direction of the St. Charles Hotel.

The buggy in which the two men were riding was hired from Harry B. Berger of 27 North Seventh street, by a man who gave his name as John Gillon, a deputy sheriff. Gillon, who was arrested Thursday, denies that he was in the buggy. Berger visited him at the station and says he was not the man who represented himself as Gillon. He stated, however, that the bogus Gillon identified the man under arrest to enable him to hire a rig Wednesday.

Gillon admits hiring a rig which he returned to the stable at 11 o'clock, but denies all knowledge of the rig which was hired by the man who had used Gillon's name and badge.

From other sources the police have heard that the missing man also gave the name of Gallagher. They are looking for a man known as 'Jeters' Gallagher. Gillon admits knowing him, but denies being with him Wednesday night.

The rig hired by the bogus 'Gillon' was found in the rear of a feed store at Twentieth and Morgan streets at 4 o'clock Monday morning. The buggy was shown in several places, and the horse showed that it had been hard driven.

McAuliffe lived with his mother and brother, Tim McAuliffe, member of the House of Delegates from the Fourth ward, at 1014 North Seventh street. He was a deputy constable under Constable Michael Kinney in Justice Spaulding's court.

McAuliffe had engaged a rig at a livery stable on Tenth street, in which to attend the funeral, which started from St. Patrick's Church, at Sixth and Biddle streets, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

At 12:30 o'clock Thursday morning Sergeant Lally, standing at Broadway and Wash street, saw a red runabout with a single horse and one occupant come at a rapid pace north on Broadway.

A short distance behind it another buggy and containing two men, came at an equal fast pace. Both rigs were driven to Carr street, where they turned and raced back, this time going to Lucas avenue. On their return north, the rig with the two men drove close to the sidewalk, where Lally was standing.

Lally says he did not recognize the men and ordered them to halt. They drove away at greater speed.

Lally recognized the man who was alone as McAuliffe. He also ordered him to halt, but without result.

The men raced north and then north for the third time, and as they neared Carr street two shots were fired.

Sergeant Lally and four policemen and a private watchman hurried toward the sound of the shots. They found McAuliffe dead in the buggy that he had been driving. Fred Becker had caught the horse. He was arrested, but the police say they have learned that he was not connected with the shooting.

The other rig turned west at Carr street, driving furiously and running down William Barry, a market porter. Policemen Montkowski and Dumant tried to stop it at Sixth and Carr streets, but it turned north, the men urging the horse to greater speed. The policemen fired two shots in the air, but when the rig had been hurt at O'Fallon street they quit the chase and started back to where Harry had been hurt.

They say they saw the rig still going north beyond Cass avenue. McAuliffe had been shot behind the left ear and death had evidently been instantaneous.

BOY HIGHWAYMEN CAUGHT AFTER RUNNING BATTLE

Frank Pitts and Harry Caton, arrested after an exciting chase of several blocks by Officers William Lindsay and J. S. Brennan of the Manchester Avenue Station, confessed to Capt. Joyce Thursday morning that they were members of the trio that robbed William Faverau of 400 Forest Park boulevard at Grand and Lawton avenues one night last week. They had previously been positively identified by Faverau.

The police say the descriptions of the youths captured by Lindsay and Brennan fit those of the highwaymen who robbed Paul Cragdon at Garrison avenue and Pine street, and Edward Tinsman at Garrison avenue and Thomas street, Monday night.

Pitts is 20 years old and says he lives at the Hotel Comfort, Twentieth and Market streets. Caton is 21 and gives his address as 125 Pine street. The police say he is also known as Arthur Johnson.

Lindsay saw three young men at the corner of Taylor and Laclede avenues about 9:30 Wednesday evening. They did not look as though they resided in the neighborhood. When they approached the head of the parade and started to run in different directions.

Lindsay started in pursuit of one of the trio, who ran east on Laclede avenue. He moved to be Caton. After running a block, Caton jumped aboard an east-bound Laclede avenue car.

Lindsay followed the car, firing his revolver as he ran, and shouting to the conductor to stop his conveyance. Caton fired at the policeman as he ran. The conductor finally stopped the car, and the policeman, almost blinded, boarded it and arrested Caton. Officer and prisoner remained on the car until it reached the station.

When the trio dispersed, Pitts ran west on Laclede, but turned after going a short distance and ran down the street. Officer Brennan, attracted by the shots, saw him running and gave chase.

A paper sold for every home

Louis and suburbs.

The ideal summer has shown how important it is to change weather prophets occasionally.

Police men have often been seen going into saloons, but they do not seem to be there while the hold-ups are in progress.

Do the Terminal monopolists think St. Louis is the most important trade center in the Mississippi Valley or is it only the town opposite East St. Louis?

One councilman testifies to having been in five street-car accidents in four weeks. His joy at being alive must be great if it is not checked by apprehension that the next one will put him in the cemetery.

ST. LOUIS TERMINALS.

The interest of St. Louis requires the establishment of terminals in St. Louis.

The notion so sedulously propagated in some quarters that the present congestion of traffic is an unusual and temporary inconvenience caused by the neglect of consignees to unload promptly is erroneous. The congestion is chronic and there is only one way to effect a permanent cure.

This fact should be kept in mind. It is the real question which the business interests of the city must keep in the forefront of discussion and not allow attention to be diverted to side issues cunningly contrived to turn the public demand into another channel.

Terminals must be established in St. Louis.

A St. Louis bill of lading is essential to prompt delivery in St. Louis.

The bridge arbitrary is a barbarous anachronism which should be speedily abolished.

These are the topics of debate and upon them action must be had. It is begging the question to consider anything else.
Until these objects are attained the congestion which now afflicts the trade of St. Louis and hampers every business interest will continue.

Elihu Root would have been President instead of Theodore Roosevelt had he not refused the vice-presidency in 1900. Daniel Webster might have had the second office in 1840 and again in 1848, but he preferred to nurse his pride, and so missed his great ambition. Politicians would better take the vice-presidency when it is offered them.

A WAR THAT IS NOT WAR.

A state of war exists in southeastern Europe, although the governments of Europe, following the precedents in the Venezuelan and Chinese disturbances, do not recognize it as war.

There is not much encouragement for the friends of humanity in the warnings to Bulgaria from Russia and Austria. The memorandum issued by that unhappy little state is a catalogue of wrongs which ought to excite the most pacific government to interfere in behalf of an oppressed and outraged people. But there is "politics" in the situation—the kind of "politics" with which we are familiar in America. A conflict of interests must be composed before any government can safely intervene. And until that is effected Bulgaria must stifle her indignation and submit to the Turk.

That seems to be the situation at present. If the fighting now going on is not stopped, however, intervention may become necessary. Just what shape it will take cannot be predicted. But one thing is certain: the interests of the great powers will get first consideration in the final settlement.
The people of the Balkans will have to accept the fate made for them by their powerful neighbors on the north and west.

Seven deaths a month from trolley car accidents is an appalling record. Then, there are all the serious injuries, the slight injuries, the shocks, and the "bad colds" contracted on open cars. We are surely paying dearly for our rapid transit.

NOT REVENGE, BUT JUSTICE.

It is notoriously true, as Judge Grosscup of the United States Circuit Court points out in his address at Dixon, Ill., that corporation laws intended to serve the purposes of business are often perverted to serve the ends of fraud and subvert the principles of business.

"When I see that to be the almost universal history of corporations, my blood boils with hate and revenge," Judge Grosscup is reported to have said in closing a sentence denouncing the lawlessness of many enterprises operated under privileges from the state.

Perhaps the tendency to indignation increases with the increase of knowledge of the subject. But no matter how great may be the knowledge of what is wrong, the knowledge of what is right leads only to one end, the end of justice.

What the future will bring in its own way, it may be in an unexpected way, is not revenge, but justice. Laws made for the business purposes will be interpreted and administered by the courts for the purposes of business. That will be a simple solution of the whole matter. It will be justice. It will be business.

Many innocent men have been hanged by law; many innocent men have been sent to penitentiaries by legal processes. If the slow, deliberate methods of courts cannot prevent an occasional appalling mistake, what can be expected of the hasty mob, acting upon impulse and in no mood for sober reasoning?

WILHELM'S ADVERTISEMENT FOR TOLSTOI.

Kaiser Wilhelm has had one of Tolstoi's books tried by a jury and condemned. It is to be confiscated. The court found that its utterances constituted lese majeste. No bookseller in Germany will be permitted to sell it.

In taking this action, the Kaiser overlooked the fact that it would extensively advertise the book. Thousands of newspapers in America and other parts of the world not only reported the trial and condemnation of "Thou Shalt Not Kill," but quoted the parts that were most objectionable to the War Lord. Thousands of persons who had never heard of the book are now acquainted with its doctrine.
And if humanity is the same in Germany as elsewhere, thousands of G- who might never have cared to read Tolstoi's book will have copies smuggled into the country and peruse them eagerly.

Experience should have taught the Kaiser that publicity is the only safe policy. Foolish doctrines will defeat themselves, if the light be turned on them. And, to the contrary, the medieval method of trial and condemnation of a book that offends against the powers that be will be ineffective in suppressing the truth. If Tolstoi is right, Kaiser Wilhelm will have to stop the presses all over the world in order to silence him.

The "loss" of a bill on the way from the House of Delegates to the Council does not work to the advantage of the public interest. Isn't it significant that the vast majority of "losses" and errors, omissions, etc., in the legislative process help some private interest, or group of such interests.

LAW AND STREET CAR ACCIDENTS.

The Assembly committee appointed to inquire into the causes of the many street car accidents will find an abundance of material.

Whether or not additional regulating legislation is needed it cannot be denied that the laws and ordinances already enacted are violated by the companies with a reckless disregard of the rights of the citizens, and there can be no question that public officials are negligent in suffering such violation to go unpunished.

The street car companies are required to have power brakes.
But though the limit of time allowed to comply with this ordinance is long since passed, very few of the Transit cars are so equipped. Probably most of the accidents are due to this defiant violation of law. The same may be said of the neglect to provide life-saving fenders on some of the lines. According to ordinance motormen are required to stop at every street corner on signal to take on passengers. The persistent violation of this ordinance has excited a resentment which too frequently breaks out in counter demonstrations of lawlessness.

Another very serious question which should be pushed vigorously is that concerning the test of competency. Many accidents have been due to gross incompetence of motormen and conductors. Do the companies employ men at haphazard without inquiring into habits, character or intelligence? And are inexperienced men sent out without supervision until they become acquainted with their routes?

The law must be enforced. Failure to do this is sure to lead to violent assertion of their rights by foolish or excited people who have suffered wrong from the companies or their employees.

It was foolish for the Trenton to fly the American flag above the Union Jack in a British port and it was foolish for the young Canadians to fire at our flag because it was in the wrong place. It often happens that wars are brought on by fools.

Senator Gorman wants to make an issue of honesty, combined with mild tariff reform. Neither Senator Gorman nor any other man will make the issue. It will be made for them

The present freight congestion is chronic, not acute. The way to relieve it is to establish terminals in St. Louis.

JUST A MINUTE WITH THE POST-DISPATCH POET & PHILOSOPHER

STRENUOSITY.

This broad and Christian land of ours,
that's noted for its charity,
Where virtue 's at a premium and meanness is a rarity,
Is very much disatisfied with him whose rare precocity
Has made (or tried to make) of late a fad
of strenuosity.

He certainly has spread it on with painful regularity,
Until with brains that are no brains our own are on a parity.
He's talked it to us for so long, with such verbose verbosity,
That we are sick and tired to death of this here strenuosity.

Who is this fellow, anyway, this White House peach, this rarity,
Who talks this strenuous stunt with such amazing regularity?
Oh, goodness gracious, but his tongue
wags with a great velocity,
And, oh, we surely tire to hear him talk
of strenuosity.

More Kisses.

What is the matter with the police magistrates of this country?
Only three days ago a police justice in St. Louis fined a citizen $100 for kissing a married woman twice, and on the same day the police of the classic city of Boston arrested a young man and a young woman for kissing each other in a canoe on the Chelsea river.

What is there so terrible about the act of kissing that a person should be arrested or fined for it?

What is there so sinful about kissing a married woman on the cheek or a single woman in a canoe that a man should be multed or imprisoned for it?

What authority is there to interdict such an action, especially when the girl is willing?

Are't the police magistrates of this country getting just a little bit too of-ficious?

What is this land of the free and the home of the brave coming to, anyway, if a man cannot kiss a woman whenever he may please with impunity?

Let us have a ruling on this subject from some higher court. Cut out the police magistrates. We men have got to find out where we stand.

"Judge."

He was a "Judge." (They called him
A judge who did not know.)
They called him Judge, but only since
The mayor named him so.

Whenever publications
Failed to record his fame
He made some ratline ruling that Would bring to front his name.

The people read, disgraced.
And some exclaimed, "Oh, Judge!"
But others took a fool's advice
Because he was a "Judge."

Man writes to us for a remedy for corns.
Must decline to discuss such a disagreeable subject. Either see a chiropodist or get an axe.

Price of cod-liver oil has increased seven-fold. Maybe it is seven times as nauseating as it used to be.

It was a great day for North America when the government fired more than 6300 naval guns and burnt up thousands of dollars' worth of powder in order that Theodore Roosevelt might have something to look at from his back porch.

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

CONTENTMENT.

My mind to me a kingdom is.
Such present joys therein I find
That it excels all other bliss.
That earth affords, or grows by kind;
Tho' much I want which most would have,
Yet still my mind forbids to crave.

No princely pomp, no wealthy store,
No force to win the victory,
No wit to solve a riddle,
No status to feed a loving eye;
To none of these I yield as thrall;
For why? My mind doth serve for all.

I see how plenty surfeits oft,
And hasty climbers soon do fall,
I see that those which are aloft,
Misshapen doth their crowns most oft;
They get with toil, they keep with fear,
Such cares my mind could never bear.

Content to live, this is my stay;
I seek no more than may suffice;
I press to bear no haughty sway;
Look, what I lack my mind supplies;
Lo, thus I triumph like a king,
Content with that my mind doth bring.

Some have too much, yet still do crave,
I little have, and seek no more;
They are but poor, though much they have,
And I am rich with little store;
They poor, I rich, they give, I give;
They lack, I leave; they pine, I live.

I laugh not at another's loss;
I grudge not at another's gain;
No worldly waves my mind can toss;
My state at one doth still remain;
I fear no foe, I fawn no friend;
I loathe not life, nor dread mine end.

Some weigh their pleasure by their lust,
Their wisdom by their age of will;
Their treasure is their only trust;
A cloaked craft their store of skill;
But all the treasure that I find
Is to maintain a quiet mind.

My wealth is health and perfect ease;
My conscience clear my chief defense;
I neither seek by bribes to please,
Nor by deceit to breed offense;
Thus do I live; thus will I die;
Would all did so as well as I!

—Sir Edward Dyer.

POST-DISPATCH FASHIONS. A STYLISH WAIST.

This pretty and attractive waist is adapted alike to the entire gown and to the separate blouse and includes one of the yoke collars that are so much in vogue. The model is made of white outline silk with yoke and trimmings in heavy lace, but the design suits all materials sufficiently pliable to allow of tucking. The sleeves can be made with the full puffs as illustrated or in plain bishop style, as preferred. The quantity of material required for the medium size is 4 1/2 yards 2 1/2 yards 27 or 32, or 2 1/2 yards 41 inches wide, with 1/4 yard of all-over lace for the yoke and 3/4 yards of applique to trim as illustrated.

THE MAN IN THE STREET

Economy.

(The Transit Company Speaks.)
Yes, there is a patent fender that never falls to work,
But to fit our cars out with them is a duty
that we shirk;
You may think it very funny, but we are out for money.
And to kill a man is cheaper—and the cars can stand the jerk.

The public's always kicking for more cars;
Well, let 'em kick.
We'll crowd 'em in the ones we have, and crowd 'em mighty thick;
What care we for their gaze? and if they catch disease,
Why, we don't have to pay the bills if they get hurt or sick!

Such talk may be coldblooded, it may give you quite a shock;
You may think it anti-Christian at human life to mock.
Perhaps it's as you say, but you see we've got to pay.
The dividends on ninety million dollars worth of stock.

We ought to build a subway? Well, now, perhaps, we oughter.
But we find it so much cheaper to commit wholesale manslaughter.
It is cheaper we have found to put PEOPLE underground,
And never make a payment on our ninety-million "water."

The disintegration of the Jefferson Club proceeds. One hundred patrolmen are to be released.

There are more than a thousand country merchants in town, but confidence men are being sent to the poorhouse every day.

A movement is on foot to have some of our city officials visit us for a short time this fall.

How can we talk of an "era of prosperity" when lone highwaymen are starving to death on every corner?

There has been a decline of 5 cents per gallon in the price of Peoria whisky. Call out the posse comitatus!

Hang the Canal Treaty and the Bularian atrocities! This cup race is what we want to read about!

These days are too good for dogs.

A Warning.

It is not for us to malign the dead, nor speak evil of him who cannot appear in his own defense, but when a valuable lesson for the living can be drawn from the ante-mortem folly of the dead, we hold that comment is justified. In the case of a recent unidentified suicide, it was reported that the only articles found on his person were a package of five-cent tobacco, a bundle of cigarette papers, and a doctor's prescription. With such a combination in his pockets, is it any wonder that he committed suicide? Who wouldn't? Any one of those things indulged in to any extent which finds its expression in self-destruction. Let the young man who is yet alive and addicted to five-cent tobacco, cigarettes and doctors' prescriptions, take warning from this tragedy, and shake off the baneful habits. Let him buy a pipe and forever abjure prescriptions. Else the mania for self-slaughter may seize him at any time.

The prisoner, soon to be tried for stealing a mule, was sitting in his cell in an attitude of deep dejection, when the jailer opened the door and a man of most sinister aspect forbade him to rise.

ENTRIES FOR THE BIG ATHLETIC MEET ARE IN

Committee on Sports of the St. Patrick's Parish Picnic, Under Whose Auspices the Carnival Will Be Held Saturday, Announces Contestants.

Entries for the annual championship of the Western Amateur Athletic Union were announced this morning by the committee on sports of the St. Patrick's parish picnic, under whose auspices the big athletic carnival will be held Saturday afternoon at Christian Brothers' College campus.

Seventeen track and field contests, a baseball game between the majority and minority teams of the House of Delegates, and a hurling match between two local clubs are the principal attractions announced.

The entries for the championships include the pick of local men. Heckwolf, Fleming, Turner, King, Hans Wolf and other fast and strong contestants are named in several events.

The 100-yard dash brings Heckwolf, Fleming, Turner, Quinn, Heldemann and several other fast men, with Heckwolf having the best chance.

Lamb, Rick, Wolf and Boken have the four weight events to themselves. In the 56-pound shot only two men had the courage to show how far the ball can be thrown.

O'Reilly, Dan Dillon, Wolf, Schildman and other fast performers are in. In all, less than 40 entries were received to the athletics, but the class and small fields are expected to improve the quality of the events.

The following officials were announced for the meeting: Referee, H. Garneau; Starter, Thomas Aiken; Inspectors, Zach W. Mink and R. J. Leacock; Track Judges, Myler McDough, Steve Kane and Geo. Lyford; Field Judges, Chas. P. Senter, T. R. Island and Alex. Munro; Timers, J. B. O'Brien, H. T. Ferris and C. H. Gillingham; Clerks of course, W. O. Flynn, E. E. Tewart and Wm. Murphy; Score, Wallace McCargo.

The baseball game is the feature that is expected to bring forth the greatest results.

THOMAS SEEKS NEW FORTUNE WITH HERMIS

Millionaire Who Paid $60,000 for Horse and Lost a Fortune Backs Him to Win Back Championship—Hermis, McClesney, Waterboy, Irish Lad and Injunction to Race for $125,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 20.—E. R. Thomas, the New York millionaire horse owner, is determined that Hermis shall win him back his lost prestige and money. Yesterday he posted $25,000 as his share of a sweepstakes, to be covered in equal amounts by the owners of Waterboy, McClesney, Irish Lad and Injunction. This will make the total value of the stake $125,000, the greatest sum contested for in the history of running races.

Hermis cost E. R. Thomas $60,000. He lost his owner much prestige as a horseman, by losing steadily during his earlier races.

He also cost hundreds of followers of the turf fortune. He was the most disappointing aspirant for championship honors that has ever contested.

Now Hermis is right again. Since the stables of Alex. Shields and Thomas were united, Hermis has begun to show his real form and recently ran a grand race. Now at one stroke, Thomas wants to win the championship and all the money he and his friends lost on Hermis. The race will be a mile and a quarter, weight for age. President W. C. Whitney declared he would add a considerable sum to the purse on behalf of the Saratoga Racing Association, presumably $35,000. With Injunction (the doubtful starter) going to the post, the purse would then reach $150,000 in value. It is not certain, however, that the horse can be brought back to the same time to start the event at Saratoga. Coney Island is due to get it in that case.

Hermis has been withdrawn from the mile and one-fourth cup race, scheduled to be run Saturday.

MIDWEEK GOSSIP OF PLAYS AND PLAYERS

There is little that is startling in the way of entertainment at either of the theaters or gardens this week. At the former the plays are chiefly of the melodramatic stamp, and at the gardens vaudeville is still the chief attraction.

The only exceptions to the general condition are at the Grand, where musical comedy that verges on the burlesque, in the shape of "The Irish Pawnbroker," is being presented, and at Delmar Garden, where the Weberfeldian travesty, "Helter-Skelter," is entertaining good crowds of summer gardeners every night.

Of the latter show there is this to be said: That while it is real burlesque, it is being presented in a neat and attractive manner, decidedly different from some of the downtown travesties and musical comedies. There are several good songs in the production, that of Mr. Richard about the Princess Zulu, backed up by a fantastically dressed chorus, being about as good a routine feature as has been seen in St. Louis in many a day. Harris and Sidman in their attempt to show Louis De Lange how to run a bank and a business, and Miss Catherine Linard, the new prima donna, is also becoming a decided favorite with Delmar patrons.

Next week Delmar will offer "The Telephone Girl," the funniest of all the comedies. It will be put on with an augmented company.

"Under Southern Skies" is the next attraction at the Grand. It is by Lottie Parker and is one of last season's Eastern successes. It is a comedy in two acts. South and was a big drawing card. It is spoken of as a woman's play.

The week's offerings of vaudeville are received at Forest. The Garden with the same favor by enormous audiences. That characterized the early summer bills. "The Girl With the Auburn Hair" is the headliner. Next week a program brings a second and last engagement of the Auburn-haired Girl, Palk and Seaman, Delmar-Debutants Trip, Clavette, Hayes and Healy, Raymond Teal and others.

Tonight the Legion of Honor will have an evening at the Garden. James J. Corbett will play the final week, Aug. 30. Munition Park is presenting a real novelty this week in the headline act, same being the French eccentric, Torcat, who is only four weeks in this country. Announced for next week is the French actor, Linder, the world's greatest illusionist; Howard and Linder, German comedy duo; Bondo, comedy juggler, and Hayes Sisters, singing and dancing comedienne.

Mr. and Mrs. Remond, in a sketch, "The Soldiers of Prophecy," a beautiful piece of character work, are making a hit at the Columbia this week, while the Nichols Sisters are getting their share of the applause. Coming to the Columbia next week are: DeKoltz & Co., Harriet Avery, Strooksch, Clark Wilfred, The Three Carew, Senator Frank Bell, Mallory Brook & Brooks, Marie Laurens, the Two Lamonts, Brown & Lavigne, and Dill & Ward and Bailey & Spiller.

Drawn, the juggler, and a good vaudeville numbers are pleasing suburban Park patrons this week. Next week be the band comes to the Garden. The vaudeville numbers will be offered. Chief among these will be a new sketch by William Brumby, a local newspaper man, entitled "Lieutenant Kitter." It will deal with English military life. The sketch is promised for it. The principal parts will be taken by Miss Marie Glover and John J. Fenney. Other numbers from the Theatre, Troubadours, Ray Cox, a dancing couple, and the Lavigne Sisters. The Innes concert will be given.

The current offering at Haddon's Park includes the following specialties: The Coney Island ballet, Franklin and McNutt, John Max and Joe Hayman. Coming next week: Willard and Willard, Esmahtide, Miller and Hummert, Beverly and Danvers, Hines and Kimball, and the Three Sisters, a new ballet and chorus.

West End Heights is offering this week Loris and Althia, Greek Shakespeare, Corroy and Pearl, Miss Sisson, high class vocalist, Miss Neville in descriptive songs, and Miss Henry in character impersonations. Another big act on the bill is Sado, the comedy wire walker.

Koerner's is this week having large audiences, despite the competition of the downtown theaters, and its regulars are enjoying Monte Cristo, because it is good and because Lawrence Hanley and Victory are playing in it. The escape from the prison into the sea is one of several features that make it thoroughly French in spirit and action, and though many have seen O'Neill in it, there are those who believe that that great actor is not the exclusive Monte Cristo. Friday is Manager H. Edward Rice's benefit.

At the Imperial Theater next week something entirely different from the ordinary run of melodramas is expected in "On the Bridge at Midnight." While of a melodramatic nature, it may be better described as a comedy drama, with a mingling of pathos and humor. A massively constructed jack-knife bridge is shown in the act in actual operation. "The Buffalo Mystery," the current attraction, is doing an excellent business and is a good play, well cast and presented.

W. B. Patton, the peculiar comedian who has achieved pronounced success in the popular-priced houses the past two seasons, will again be seen at Hayt's next week in his success "The Minister's Son." "Nobody's Claim" is the attraction that is pleasing large houses this week.

Stunning costumes, gorgeous scenery and a host of clever comedians who really have talent are the things that go to make up a musical comedy. Leslie Moroscos comedians in "Spotless Town," which is a comedy with a mingling of pathos and humor. A massively constructed jack-knife bridge is shown in the act in actual operation. "The Buffalo Mystery," the current attraction, is doing an excellent business and is a good play, well cast and presented.

Prof. Dick Richards' juvenile minstrels are in a class all by themselves down at Eclipse Park this week. To anyone who has not seen this organization of youngsters work it would be difficult to explain the nature of the entertainment. It contains everything usually found in a first-class minstrel show, but done only as children do them.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pemberton (Louise Dunbar), who have been conducting the stock company at Eclipse this summer, will leave for Chicago tonight and will spend a couple of weeks at a Wisconsin lake resort before beginning their winter work. They have made a host of friends during their summer at Eclipse by their good work both as actors and as entertainment purveyors.

Tonight is Scotch night at the Cottage in Forest Park. Bandmaster Seymour has "Rob Roy," De Koven's popular opera, in select form, and many similar numbers on his special program. His most ambitious offering is the famous Beethoven's Grand National Fantasia, beginning with "Garry Owen," and ending with "God Save the Queen." Voelker's National Sword Dance and Wallace's "Maritana" are also to be given later in the evening.

"The Jolly Grass Widows" will follow the Bon-Ton Burlesque at the Standard. The vaudeville program is to include short acts by Nat Fields, German Jester; Joe Howard, comic writer; Alexander Carr, Hebrew impersonator; Marie Theresa, vocalist; Mae Millard, comedienne; and Ruth Everett, "the mechanical doll."

Fresh Oysters at Faust's Fulton Mkt. Piano Manufacturing Co. Assigns. Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, Aug. 20.—The Mason and Hamlin Co., organ and piano makers, have assigned to Frank B. Allen of Lynn, and Geo. B. Nutter of Boston. The factory at Cambridge has been shut down. Nutter places the liabilities at $20,000. He could not estimate the damage to the pianos, pianist principally of finished and unfinished organs and pianos. Practically all the instruments were damaged.

Railway Employees' Outing.
The employees of the street railways will have possession of Delmar Garden Sunday. Most of the proceeds will go to the Street Railway Employees' Union, which numbers more than 3000 members.

A three-weeks-old baby, sleeping soundly in a newspaper, was found on the doorstep of the home of Mrs. Alice Ketch, 2977 Locust avenue. The child was taken to St. Ann's Asylum.
